What Would You Say to Someone Considering Silicon Plains?

"You want to work with someone who offers Class-A service and that you can count on every day and that's Silicon Plains. I never have to question whether they are doing the right thing for me, at the right price."

-- Executive Director
Guardian and Protective Services

CHALLENGES

Before working with Silicon Plains Guardian and Protective Services struggled with existing IT providers providing only break-fix services, and not providing true hardware management and IT consulting. For organizations working on a set budget, these surprise costs were difficult to navigate. "I was tired of being startled into a decision."

SILICON PLAINS' SOLUTIONS

Silicon Plains manages the cybersecurity and IT infrastructure for Guardian and Protective Services giving them a more stable budget as well as improved cybersecurity and hardware management.
